

What is your Good Life? Working from Home..

While we have been working from home the McGranahan family also had a fire. So let's just say for about a week, my mental health was challenged with fears of the virus, since I am at high risk and having people come into my home to fix the aftermath of a lightning strike and a fire.

Now that things are more calm, we are making lots of videos to post on the AIA Facebook and insta pages.

Trying to support Connor to understand this new challenge has been a new parent adventure. We had to wait and learn new signs for new words and time out 20 seconds in sign. As always, he is doing his best to stay connected to the world thru social media.

We are walking, singing, cooking and taking care of each other.
